Dedication

On January 28, 1948, El Dorado Junior College suffered a great loss in the death of James Edmond "Jim" Frisby. Jim died doing that which he loved best—playing basketball. Although Jim was only eighteen years of age, he left his mark on his school and community. Jim was best known for his ability on the basketball court, where he had starred in high school and was continuing to star in Juco. Jim commanded great respect from his team mates, from his opponents, and from the spectators.

We who knew Jim know that sportsmanship was only one of his many fine qualities. We also admired his easy-going friendliness, his deep love for his fellow man, his fine sense of humor, and his gentlemanly conduct.

Jim's going leaves us with an emptiness which cannot be filled. It is with the sense of our great loss that we dedicate this yearbook to the memory of Jim Frisby.

Juco is very fortunate in securing able and experienced men to direct its educational program.

Our Dean, Max Bickford, who has been faced with the task of making a success of his first year in Juco, is experienced in both teaching and supervising. Before becoming Dean of El Dorado Juco, Mr. Bickford taught in Denison Rural High School and in Enterprise High School. He was Superintendent of the Towanda Schools and later of the Douglass Schools, and he was Supervising Principal of the El Dorado Elementary Schools last year. He received his B. S. and M. S. from Kansas State College at Manhattan. Dean Bickford, well liked by faculty and students for his capable administration and ready participation in all school activities, has indeed succeeded in making his first year in Juco a successful one.

Superintendent Hughes, whose twenty-two years of service in El Dorado have made him a familiar and well-liked personality, also had extensive experience before coming to our school system. In Fort Scott he was, successively, high school teacher, elementary school principal, and high school principal. He was Superintendent of Schools in Chanute and Principal of the Junior-Senior High School in Independence. He holds the following degrees: B. A. from Washburn College, M. A. from Pittsburg State Teachers College, and Doctor of Humane Letters from Washburn College.

The will of the student body expresses itself through the student council; therefore, it is the duty of the student council to carry out, whenever possible, the wishes of the students. The council is not a governing body. Rather, it is a group of students who make the decisions regarding certain school policies and who plan the numerous social events of the year.

This year the men again greatly outnumbered the women. Again a large number of the students were married. These facts caused many headaches to the members of the dance committees. In spite of such problems, however, the dances were enjoyed by those who attended them. The leap year dance during WPA Week was especially successful, furnishing the women the opportunity to be the aggressors for a change, and giving the men's pocketbooks a welcome relief.

Although the social events were important, they did not constitute the only problem faced by the student council. In making each decision, the members tried to carry out the wishes of the majority of the students. The members of the student council deserve much credit for the time and energy which they freely spent in behalf of the student body.

Graduation day is always a day to remember. We, the Sophomore Class of 1948, will always cherish the pleasures we had while attending "El-Juco," as we affectionately called El Dorado Junior College.

The Sophomore Class, under the direction of its officers, Tom Dugan (president), Dawson Bressie (vice-president) and Charles Fullinwider (secretary-treasurer) cannot be cited especially for the number of events sponsored. The class will be remembered, however, for the whole-sale enthusiasm and general efficiency which marked its activities.

Late last year, while we were still freshmen, we enjoyed a spring picnic. This fall, to welcome the incoming freshmen, we set aside a day for their initiation, which culminated in a dance that evening. These were our contributions to the social life of the school.

We truly regret that El Dorado Junior College will not be our Alma Mater next fall, but pleasant memories of Juco will go with us throughout our lives.

Order of the Purple

Lest we tend to lose sight of the fact that scholarship is actually the most important aspect of school life, El Dorado Junior College has organized a society based solely upon scholarship, service, leadership, and character. This society is officially called "Order of the Purple," and the local chapter was granted its charter in May, 1937.

No more than fifteen per cent of the graduating class may be chosen in a particular year. Election of these graduates is by secret ballot of the faculty and the student council, after a thorough discussion of the qualifications of the candidates. Minimum requirements include a grade point average of "two" or more, one full year's enrollment at El Dorado Junior College, and the completion of twelve hours' work each semester.

This year the following students were honored by election to the Order of the Purple: Barbara Bowyer, Betty Jo Locke, George Harper, Beth DeLong, Howard Knaussman, Fred Doornbos, Richard Alley, Jack Barr, Frank Hall, and Velma Wheeler.

Freshmen

L. D. Golike,
President

Jean Shepherd,
Vice-President

Since no organization can successfully carry out its functions without a little supervision by officers, the Freshman Class of '47-'48 held an election. We chose L. D. Golike as president, Jim Frisby as vice-president, and Jean Shepherd as secretary-treasurer.

Since we were lowly freshmen, the mighty sophomores initiated us in the fall. All the freshies could be seen carrying the sophomores' books, wearing clothes backwards, or pushing peanuts down the hall. After class that day we all went to the hill east of town to whitewash the letters, "E. J. C." Next year many of us will be given a chance to take our revenge on the freshmen of '48-'49.

Our class, as well as the school as a whole, was deeply saddened by the sudden death of our vice-president, Jim Frisby, who was a favorite of the entire student body.

The El Dorado Grizzlies played a total of nine games on the gridiron this year. Five games were played at the Community Field and four on foreign fields. The Grizzlies, coached by Joe Wallace, won two and lost two in the league. Outside of the league, the Grizzlies won three and lost two. In all, the gridders won five and lost four.

Coach Wallace had fifteen lettermen back from last year's squad. Many of the boys were from different states. Spring practice was held during April and May of last year. The regular practice began August 15, with about forty boys reporting. As the season rolled along, the number of boys out for football dropped to twenty-eight. The team had one month before their first game, during which time they practiced tackling, blocking, passing, punting, and running through new plays.

There are many men on any squad who receive no recognition; yet if it were not for these men who help train the first string men, and who are on the field every day, taking as much punishment as the rest, we could never have a winning team. So, when we praise the team, let's not forget those who didn't quite get there but who tried just as hard as the others.

Although the Grizzlies did not "bring home the bacon" as often as they had in some years, the club fought hard for E. J. C., and their fighting spirit continued throughout the season. That old "do or die" spirit was always with the boys wherever they played.

Many lettermen graduate this year, leaving vacancies to be filled next year. We feel that with the remaining lettermen and the new players, next year's team will be as successful as this one.

Credit for the success of the team goes to Coach Joe Wallace and to Assistant Coach Bill Hill. Teams coached by Wallace are always teams drilled well on defense and offense.

Honor was brought to our school by Wayne Van Dolah and Howard "Bull" Kelly. Wayne was placed on the ALL-STATE team as an end. Howard was given a berth on the LITTLE ALL-AMERICAN team as fullback.

Basketball

By winning a total of five out of nine conference tilts, the El Dorado Grizzlies took second place in the western juco division. They were powerful enough to outpoint their opponents 880 to 856 in twenty-one conference and non-conference tilts.

Under the able coaching of Joe Wallace, the Grizzlies got off to a grand start, as they were victorious over their first six opponents. It was in the finals of the Independence invitational tournament that the Grizzlies first suffered a defeat. They were unable to outpoint the powerful Ark City quintet.

At this point in the season, the Grizzlies were unable to keep up their speedy tactics, and they were defeated by a few of the stronger teams in the state by small point margins.

Soon their luck changed as they tripped the Hutchinson five on the home court. This was the first time for several years that the Grizzlies were strong enough to drop the Hutch team.

In the last conference tilt of the season, the Grizzlies pounded out a victory over the Ark City club in an overtime period.

An extra event of juco basketball was the Kansas A. A. U. Tournament held in Wichita this year. As the Grizzlies marched against a number of the strongest teams in the state, they were powerful enough to capture fourth place honors.

Coach Wallace and his team are to be complimented for keeping El Dorado on top as having an outstanding ball club. They certainly have done a grand job this year.

Spring Sports

At the time the yearbook goes to press, the thin-clad speedsters from Juco have entered in only two track meets. In a triangular meet at El Dorado, Hutchinson walked off with first place, and El Dorado came up with second place. Ark City finished third in the meet. In a dual meet with Wichita University "B" track team, the Juco men scored forty-nine points to Wichita's seventy-two points. The track squad still has several meets to attend and from all indications will give a good showing. Lee Casida is coaching the speedsters this year.

Last year's track squad had a successful season. In a triangular meet at Hutchinson they finished second, with Hutchinson winning and Dodge City taking third. In the Baker Relays, the El Dorado Juco track men finished second in the mile relay. The Coffeyville Relays proved very successful for El Dorado, since the squad won the mile relay, finished second in the half-mile relay, and third in the 440-yard relay. In the state Junior College Track Meet, held at El Dorado, the Juco track men took third place. All in all, the track squad had a very successful season under the coaching of Joe Wallace.

Mr. Spann is again organizing the Juco golfers and net men. The following men are out for golf this year: Gorsuch, Stone, McQuade, Beal, and Lawrence. The State Golf Tournament will be held in El Dorado this year; also, plans are being made for some dual matches. Last year's golf team won matches from Coffeyville and Chanute and lost to Independence. In the State Golf Tournament last year, the Juco golfers took third place. The Juco golf team has good prospects for the state meet again this year.

The Juco net men for this year are Black, Allen, Pound, Van Dolah, and Mannion. The state tournament will be held in El Dorado this year, and the men hope to give a better account of themselves than last year's players, who were eliminated in the early rounds of the state meet. During the season last year, the Juco tennis team won one match and lost three to other junior college tennis teams. Playing on their home courts, the men should give a good account of themselves in the state tournament.

The year '47-'48 was an active one for the Varsity Club. Election of officers was held at the first meeting of the year. The following officers were elected: John Ivy, president; Ray Adams, vice-president; George Harper, secretary-treasurer; Glen Conine, sergeant-at-arms; and Howard Knaussman, student council representative.

Permanent membership in the Varsity Club is gained by earning a letter in any major sport. Each candidate goes through a rugged initiation before becoming a full-fledged member.

At the beginning of this year, the club consisted of twenty-four members, carried over from last year. This year, thirty men lettered in football, thirteen of whom became new members of the club. Five new lettermen earned membership by lettering in basketball. The total membership at the close of the basketball season numbered forty-four.

Several meetings were held this year. Activities included participation in all school affairs, and projects for obtaining money to pay debts. The annual Varsity Club banquet is to be planned later in the final semester.

Under the capable supervision of Miss Beuchat "The Gold Diggers," the girls' pep club, was organized. The group was small, but it furnished valuable support to El Dorado teams.

The six cheer leaders kept the students yelling at the games. Euwal Barton, that super tumbler, added color and loveliness to the cheer leading.

The cheer leaders and the Gold Diggers hope that next year the good sportsmanship and the lively interest of the student body will continue to improve.

The main problem of the journalism students this year has been the securing of a permanent editor. Throughout the school term, the Grizzly Growls, Juco weekly publication, has had not one, not two, but four editors, plus an associate editor.

At the beginning of the school year, Charles Fullinwider was elected editor, and in this capacity he served faithfully during the first semester. When the second semester began, Charles entered another college, and Paul O'Neal and Barbara Bowyer were selected as co-editors. However, Paul soon withdrew from school, and Barbara resigned because of outside work.

The members of the club assembled and selected Jim McKinney editor, with Velma Wheeler as his assistant. Jim has done a very commendable job. He and the other members of the group have accomplished much, in spite of occasional uninterested students, late contributions, and lazy reporting. Although the going has sometimes been rough, those students who remained in the club have enjoyed their experiences and have contributed much to the welfare of the student body of E. J. C.

According to the available lists, other members were Beth DeLong, Jane Ruth, Betty Jo Locke, Betty Jo Pendergrass, Cordelia Dennis, Yvonne Perego, Jo Ann Willaby, Betty Barton, Shirley Seeber, Paul Flint, Bob DeLong, Ralph Prewitt, David Walk, Bill Hartnett, Marilyn Mardis, Tom Garland, Tom Day, Lois Graf, Marcia Godding, Howard Knaussman, Ray Adams, Jim Thompson, Bob Stone, and Pat Baughman. Mr. Nixon sponsored the group.

To all who stared in amazement at dignified Jucoites dashing down the hall to corner other equally dignified Jucoites; to all who listened with amazement to the ensuing arguments and desperate pleas for articles, snapshots, and class pictures; the Grizzly Growls' Staff wishes to make this statement: the before-mentioned activities were not designed merely to entertain spectators but rather were bent toward getting this, the 1948 yearbook, to you on time.

The staff organized early in the semester and immediately began to work on the book. Before much progress could be made, the officers had to be chosen. Frank Hall was appointed editor, Shirley Seeber associate editor, and competent students were chosen for the other positions on the staff.

The Grizzly Growls

As in any publication activity, there were many obstacles to be overcome. Prices of printing and engraving were high, the selection of subjects for publication was difficult, and deadlines were sometimes hard to meet. Nevertheless, the staff has tried to make the book representative of the entire student body, a yearbook of which the school can feel proud.

Staff members wrote most of the articles; but Tom Dugan, Jean Shepherd, Dell Reed, Bud Knowles, Fred Doornbos, Ray Adams, Dick Alley, and Miss Macy Fay Hukle also contributed articles. The excellent pictures furnished by our photographer, Chuck Hollis, were supplemented by the snapshots contributed by Lynn Hepler, Virgil Grange, Jack Simon, and others. Dean Bickford and other faculty members offered valuable suggestions and encouragement. As the book goes to press, the entire staff wishes to extend sincere thanks to all who have in any way contributed to the 1947-1948 yearbook.

Y.W.C.A.

The Y. W. C. A. activities this year included a weiner roast, a covered dish dinner, a caroling party followed by a chili feed, and last and most important, the annual tea held for all junior college women and all high school senior girls of Butler County.

Pi Delta Theta, Dramatics Club of El Dorado Junior College, presented two three-act plays this year. The club had thirty members. Those students who were outstanding in dramatics were eligible for Delta Psi Omega, the National Honorary Dramatics Fraternity. Officers of Pi Delta Theta this year were: Marcia Godding, president; Marilyn Mardis, vice-president; and Velma Wheeler, secretary-treasurer.

Dramatics

International Relations

The International Relations Club, under the sponsorship of Mr. Zerger, was reorganized during the first semester of the 1947-1948 school year. The purpose of this club is to help the members better understand the "why" and "how" of the social, political, and economical problems arising among the nations of the world. With world conditions as they are at the present, the activities of the club have proved extremely interesting to the members.

Science

All eyes are on Mr. Coffman and his burette at a crucial moment as the Science Club appears in a regular meeting. Members shown are (left to right): Walters (secretary-treasurer), Martin, Childs, Barton, Mr. Coffman (sponsor), Kennedy (student council representative), Doornbos (president), and C. Markley. Club meetings were semi-monthly and were based upon science, hobbies, and fun.

Fall Play

Spring Play

The spring play, Moliere's "The Imaginary Invalid," a comedy verging on the farcical, was presented by a competent cast on April 29-30. The annual openhouse of Pi Delta Theta and Delta Psi Omega was held on the stage immediately after the play.

The student nurses of Susan B. Allen Memorial Hospital School of Nursing have a thirty-six months' course of training, which includes approximately 1050 hours of theory. This training is taken partly at the El Dorado Junior College, partly at Children's Mercy Hospital, Kansas City, Missouri, and partly at St. Louis City Hospital, St. Louis, Missouri. The practical experience is taken in the following departments: Medical, Surgical, Obstetrics, Surgery, and Diet Kitchen. This plan follows the course as recommended by the State Board of Nurse Examiners.

Our Nurses

It is the purpose of the nursing school to create and maintain a standard worthy of the highest ideals of the nursing profession and to offer such valuable instruction and experience that the best type of young women will be enrolled and graduated.

Football and its associated activities caught our attention early in the fall.

Freshman Initiation and the crowning of the Football Queen were fun. Our cheer leaders were on the job.

Juco presented for our approval varied activities and personalities.

Winter brought new beauty to our campus.

The Y. W. C. A. sponsored one of our best parties. At another party, our candidate for K. U. Relays Queen was crowned. Spring found the athletes on the athletic field, on the tennis courts, or on the golf course.

Veterans' Wives and Children

In order to give credit where credit is due, let us salute the wives of our married students. Without the cooperation of these young women, their husbands would find the process of securing an education difficult or even impossible. Pictured, standing, from left to right, are Mrs. Harry Rockwood, Mrs. Dana Barrier, Mrs. Wayne Van Dolah, Mrs. Robert Beal, Mrs. Levi Thompson, Mrs. Norman Tubbs, Mrs. Sherman Perry, Mrs. Harry Durnil, Mrs. James Graham, and Mrs. Harold Aaaron.
